About us

METRO supplies food for 25 countries. We at METRONOM provide the backbone for this – making sure that everyone gets their food on the table. ;)

METRONOM is responsible for the framework behind the delivery right to the customers' doorstep. We design, implement, test, continuously deploy and run hundreds of micro services and digital solutions driving our business from sourcing up to checkout or delivery.

How do we do it? Our agile product teams are the ones choosing the technologies and working methods, allowing for fast decisions and reactions to customer needs.

Join us

Joining our team means working in a startup-like atmosphere while being part of an international market-leading specialist in wholesale and food retail.

What you can expect

- You are leading and developing a team of IT experts with a certain technical focus (full stack developers, infrastructure engineers) working in different product teams.
- You hire new team members, promote METRONOM together with your team at various events, and empower your team to work in a self-organized way and take responsibility for their own decisions.
- You support the individual growth of your team members, foster their technical and methodical education, and give orientation by open personal feedback.
- Highly motivated team players from all over the world who want to make a difference, go the extra mile together, and like to share their knowledge and experience at any time.
- A flat and dynamically evolving agile organization, with a strong willingness to learn and focus on people.
- A modern cloud environment based on continuous deployment principles and microservice architectures.

Your profile

- You love to foster strategic thinking, to empower and motivate people, and to guide them through change processes.
- You have very strong coaching, moderating, and networking skills.
- You have an agile mindset and a strong background in at least one of the following fields: IT infrastructure, cloud technologies, or software engineering.
- You are eager to not only apply existing HR programs and organizational principles, but also consider the individual needs of your team for its further development.
- You want to think out of the box and live modern leadership authentically and responsibly.

Benefits

Permanent employment • In-house workplace and an international work environment • High personal responsibilities • Flexible working-time models • Remote / home working supported • Preventive healthcare services • Good infrastructure (free parking spaces, various nearby shopping facilities) • Latest technologies • Exciting projects
